Chair Yoga: Gain more freedom of movement for your physical activities and for everyday activities such as getting dressed and reaching objects on a shelf. Chair Yoga can help increase your balance, core strength and benefit your overall health.

Senior Strength: Strength exercises build muscle, and even very small changes in muscle strength can make a real difference in your ability to perform everyday activities like carrying groceries, lifting a grandchild, or getting up from a chair.

Senior Stretch: Getting you ready for your day with Senior Stretch, with a focus on all parts of your body, you will be ready to extend further for all of your daily activities.

T'ai Chi: Tai Chi is low impact and puts minimal stress on muscles and joints, making it generally safe for all ages and fitness levels. T'ai chi is a grace full form of exercise that's used for stress reduction and a variety of other health conditions.

Vinyasa Yoga: This class is a style of yoga characterized by stringing postures together so that you move from one to another, seamlessly, using breath. Commonly referred to as "flow" yoga. Vinyasa Yoga helps to develop a more balanced body as well as prevent repetitive motion injuries that can happen if you are always doing the same thing every day.

Yin Yoga: Yin Yoga is a slower-paced, more meditative version of the popular physical and spiritual discipline of yoga. In Yin yoga, the poses are held for a longer period of time (than vinyasa) to target the connective tissues (such as the ligaments) rather than focusing on the muscles.

Power Pump Strength: This weight training class uses barbells, dumbbells, and other fun equipment to provide a total body strength-training workout. Improved functional strength, core strength and balance. Some workouts will include a cardio component as well, building strength and flexibility. Build up your strength while enjoying the motivation from a supportive group fitness class and some fun music.
